The Eloquence of Print

The printed message is the Ambassador of Commerce. Printing of distinguished appearance reflects credit upon the merchant who uses it.

Pillans & Wilson were printers when George III. was king. Everything that a fine tradition can do to give dignity and distinction to the printed word is inherent in Pillans & Wilson methods.

Along with these, every modern improvement has been adopted that can couple artistic perfection with labour-saving and money-saving.

For one example—A brightly coloured carpet, an oil-painting, a case of jewels or a box of confectionery, can be photographed by the colour process and mechanically reproduced in a small number of printings with perfect resemblance to the original. Elaborate productions of this kind are as much a speciality of the house as the old-style, dignified letterpress printing—which first made Pillans & Wilson printers of reputation.

IN YOUR BUSINESS

there must be something which needs to be printed. Ideas and suggestions can be supplied for any piece of printing matter which will give it the coveted hall-mark of distinction.

EVANGELIZATION SOCIETY (LONDON), SCOTTISH BRANCH.

OFFICES, 13 GEORGE STREET, EDINBURGH. Telephone—7330 Central.

Scottish Superintendent, F. Wycliffe Pascoe, 13 George Street, Edinburgh. Number of meetings taken annually in Great Britain, over 20,000. Income, £11,000 per year.

The Evangelization Society is a company of preachers associated to preach the Gospel. As individuals they belong to various denominations of the Christian Church, but as Evangelists they belong to none. They go out through the Evangelization Society, not as members of any particular Church, but only as Evangelists, to preach the Evangel. The Society was established in 1864. Over one thousand Missions are supplied annually with Evangelists in England, Scotland, and Wales, on the application of Clergymen, Ministers, and others. As no stated charge is made for the services of its preachers, no place need be without the Gospel at the hands of the Evangelist so long as this Society exists.

The Boys' Brigade was instituted in Glasgow in 1883 with 1 Company, 3 Officers, and 30 boys. It has grown into a great organisation, covering all parts of the kingdom, and numbering, according to the last returns on 31st May 1912, 1298 Companies, 6039 Officers, 2235 staff-sergeants, and 55,819 boys in the United Kingdom alone, not counting the great development of the movement in the United States, Canada, Australia, Cape Colony, and other parts of the world.

The Brigade has met a felt want, and has supplied a link in the chain of Christian work which had hitherto been to a large extent wanting.

Its object, in the words of the Constitution, is "The advancement of Christ's Kingdom among Boys, and the promotion of habits of obedience, reverence, discipline, self-respect, and all that tends towards a true Christian manliness."

This object is attained by banding the Boys together in Companies, under duly qualified men as Officers; by creating among them an esprit de corps, which gives them a proper pride in their Company, and a strong incentive to do nothing unworthy of it; by taking up everything that should enter into healthy Boy-life, and bringing it all under Christian influence and control.

John Ross, Secretary of the Edinburgh Battalion, will be glad to give full information to any one desirous of forming a Company of The Boys' Brigade.
